Employee Non-Disclosure and Confidentiality Agreement

This Employee Non-Disclosure and Confidentiality Agreement (this “Agreement”) is entered into as of [Date of joining] (the “Effective Date”) by and between Startappss Systems Private Limited (the “Company”) and Mr. Employee name, an employee of the Company (the “Employee”). The above parties may be referred to individually as a “Party” or collectively as the “Parties.”

The Company has hired the Employee pursuant to the terms and conditions of the Employment Agreement executed between the Parties on [Date of joining]. In connection with the Employee’s duties under the Employment Agreement, the Company may disclose to the Employee certain confidential and proprietary information that is unique and valuable to its ongoing business operations.

In consideration of the Employee’s employment by the Company, and the covenants and mutual promises contained herein, the Parties agree as follows:

1. Confidential Information

The term “Confidential Information” as used in this Agreement shall mean any data, information, or knowledge disclosed by the Company to the Employee that is not generally known to the public, including but not limited to:

- a. The Company’s business or operational plans or activities, existing or contemplated markets, advertising initiatives, methods of operation, products, or services;
- b. The Company’s suppliers or logistics data;
- c. The Company’s customer or supplier lists, cost of goods or services, profits and losses, budgeting, past or future sales, or financial information;
- d. The Company’s schematics, designs, software source or object code, compressed or uncompressed binaries, inventions, patents or patent applications, or illustrations;
- e. The Company’s existing or contemplated designs, models or platforms, formulas, research, notes, or analytical data;
- f. The Company’s management, board of directors, affiliates, suppliers, customers, employees, or third-party contractors;
- g. The Company’s history, entity structure, accounts, or goodwill; copyrights, trademarks, trade secrets, patents, trade names or any other tangible or intangible rights, whether registered or unregistered;
- h. The Company’s technical systems, processes, methods, algorithms, computational schemas, know-how, or trade secrets;
- i. The Company’s technical systems, processes, methods, algorithms, computational schemas, know-how, or trade secrets;
- j. The Company’s employees, salaries, job-related functions, duties or responsibilities; written, auditory, or electronic communications;

Uttar Pradesh, 201301

- k. Any information which, if disclosed (whether true or untrue), could harm the goodwill or reputation of the Company, its management, board of directors, affiliates, methods of operation, products, or services; or
- l. Any other information of any kind or nature that the Company desires to maintain as confidential.

2.Exclusions to Confidential Information.

The obligation of confidentiality with respect to Confidential Information will not apply to any information that:

- a. Is or becomes publicly known and available other than as a result of prior unauthorized disclosure by the Employee;
- b. Is or was received by the Employee from a third party who, to the Employee's best knowledge, was not under a confidentiality obligation to the Company with respect to such information;
- c. Is disclosed by the Employee with the Company's prior written consent;
- d. Is independently developed by the Employee without the use of the Company's Confidential Information;
- e. The Employee is legally compelled to disclose by applicable law, or government regulation, provided that, to the extent lawful, the Employee gives prompt written notice to the Company prior to such disclosure.

3. Obligation to Maintain Confidentiality:

The Employee agrees to

- a. Retain Confidential Information in strict confidence and protect its security, integrity, and confidentiality;
- b. Not permit unauthorized access, disclosure, publication, or dissemination of Confidential Information except in accordance with this Agreement; and
- c. Return all documents, memorandum, notes, or other records (in any format) containing Confidential Information upon termination of employment or upon request by the Company.

The obligation not to disclose Confidential Information shall survive termination of this Agreement and remain in effect for two (2) years following the Employee's termination of employment with the Company, except to the extent that Confidential Information falls under the exclusions in Section 2.

4.Disclaimer

The Company makes no representation or warranty, express or implied, regarding the accuracy or completeness of any Confidential Information disclosed under this Agreement.

5. Remedies

The Employee acknowledges that the unauthorized use or disclosure of Confidential Information would cause irreparable harm to the Company, for which monetary damages would not be an adequate remedy. Accordingly, the Company shall be entitled to seek equitable relief (including injunctions) in addition to any other legal remedies available at law or in equity. In any action brought by the Company under this Section, the Company shall also be entitled to recover reasonable attorney's fees and costs from the Employee.

6. Notices

All notices under this Agreement must be in writing and shall be effective upon receipt if delivered: In person, By overnight courier service, or By certified/registered mail (postage prepaid, return receipt requested), to the Party at the following addresses (or to such other address as a Party may later designate in writing):

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Parties hereto have executed this Agreement as of the date first written above.
